

CHRISTOPHE MARTI, MD

After medical education at the University of Geneva, Christophe Marti completes his post-graduate education at the University Hospital of Geneva (HUG) where he becomes a FMH specialist in Internal Medicine, FMH specialist in Intensive Medicine and certificated in hospital Emergency Medicine. After sharing his clinical activity between the emergency department and the division of internal medicine, he integrates the division of internal medicine at full time in 2017 and is responsible of the Intermediate Care Medical Unit. He is involved in pre and post graduate education and his research interests are related to acute respiratory conditions and evidence synthesis through systematic reviews and meta-analyses.